Well-trained, knowledgeable personnel drive improvements in operation and reliability

Our Services:

- Customized in-plant training to enhance and broaden the knowledge of plant personnel: control room operators, process engineers, shift foremen, and maintenance personnel.
- Tutorials customized to meet clients goals and plant design.
- Conducted by experienced consultants who are at the cutting edge of technology, including optimization audits and benchmarking.
- Training is a combination of classroom and field work.
- Customized manuals for classroom work and future reference.

Benefits:

- Special emphasis is placed on developing personnel skills rather than simply providing solutions to technical and operating problems.
- The best technical practices established at one plant are effectively transferred to other plants.
